Hippie Raid Nets Stars Of Ballet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev, ballet's foremost partners who explored Hippieville's fascinations, escaped today the embarrassment of court arraignment on charges of disturbing the peace.

The charges against Dame Margot, Nureyev and 16 others arrested at 3 a.m. Tuesday at a noisy party in a shabby Haight-Ashbury district flat, were ordered dropped.

Frederick J. Whisman, assistant district attorney, said Tuesday the decision to drop all charges "has nothing to do with the identity of any of the persons involved and I feel there was reasonable cause for the arrests."

But he said, the evidence was not enough to determine who among the 18 arrested had marijuana or disturbed the peace.

Each of the 18, including the British Royal Ballet stars, had been booked about 4:30 a.m. at city prison on charges of disturbing the peace and being in a place where marijuana was kept.

A group of hippies visited the ballet stars backstage after Monday night's performance at the San Francisco Opera House.

Farm Workers Comp Reformed

LANSING (AP) — The House, over some Democrats' objections, agreed Tuesday with the Senate version of a bill to ease a burden on farmers resulting from extension of workmen's compensation to farm workers.

The Democrats retaliated by refusing the bill immediate effect—meaning it will do farmers little good this year.

Also passed by the House was a Senate measure giving the Public Health Department power to inspect, license and regulate hospitals — setting up quality standards and banning discrimination because of race, religion, color or national origin.

The compensation bill changes a law which took effect July 1. It provides that in computing a farm worker's "average weekly wage" for compensation purposes, only wages earned in farm labor would be counted.

Democrats said that was discriminatory because other workers' benefits are calculated on an average of earnings from any type of employment.

The bill also limits coverage to workers employed by the same farmer for at least 13 weeks in a row. The original law did not require that the weeks be consecutive.

Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, House Labor Committee chairman, said the law in its present form is "raising economic chaos among farmers," because insurance companies, lacking experience in writing workmen's compensation policies in agriculture, are protecting themselves by charging large premiums.

Earlier this session, majority Republicans tried to delay the effective date of the workmen's compensation extension until late this year. They passed their bill on a party-line vote but Democrats then also withheld the needed immediate effect and would agree to only a two-month extension—until July 1.

Congress Asks Deciding Voice In Intervention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress wants a much greater voice in deciding whether U.S. military forces should be ordered into new world trouble spots, members of two key Senate committees told Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

He met with them Tuesday to defend the dispatch of three U.S. military transports and about 126 troops to the Congo, whose government is trying to overcome rebel mercenaries.

"We don't wish to continue intervening here, there and everywhere," Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee commented in telling newsmen of the congressional demand served on the administration.

He also charged the administration's Congo decision was based on greatly exaggerated reports of dangers to Americans there.

Congress Apprehensive

Fulbright said the experience of the initial involvement in Vietnam caused what he described as growing congressional apprehension over the authority of the President to order U.S. military forces into troubled areas. He said Rusk seems unaware of this apprehension.

In the future, Fulbright said, Congress wants to be in on the decision making. Consultation involves more than notifying congressional leaders of decisions already taken, the chairman asserted.

But Rusk, also commenting separately to newsmen after the two-hour, closed meeting with the committees, said, "some people have the impression we go around the world looking for business of this kind. The opposite is true."

Rusk said earlier that congressional leaders were notified of the decision on sending aid to the Congo, but Fulbright said that was not the kind of consultation he had in mind.

Yanks Not Harmed

Rusk told the senators the help to the Congo was designed to show the people of that country there was no white conspiracy against their government and to provide it with logistic support.

At the outset of the uprising, there was concern for the safety of the 3,200 Americans in the Congo, the secretary said.

While no reported harm has come to Americans, there have been reports of murder of other foreigners.

Rusk told the senators he hoped conditions would settle down within two to four weeks so the U.S. planes could be withdrawn.

Yanks Locked In Big Battle Near Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — American troops were locked in heavy combat today with a Communist force attacking in the rainswept jungle of the Ia Drang Valley area of South Vietnam's central highlands.

As fighting erupted in the central highlands, Communist guerrillas struck in force against two Mekong Delta outposts before dawn but were chased back across the flooded paddyfields with heavy losses.

American warplanes and naval ships carried the war to North Vietnam against with air raids deep in Red territory Tuesday and ship-to-shore bombardments far up the coast. Five Red MIG21s were reported sighted. The U.S. Command said they refused battle.

U.S. headquarters said a unit of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division was fighting off Red fire from three sides according to the last report from the Ia Drang battlefield. The size of the American unit was not known in Saigon.

The fighting raged in a mountainous area close to the Cambodian frontier where fresh North Vietnamese regiments have been braced to drive into South Vietnam during the present rainy season for another effort to wrest the vital highlands from allied control.

The 4th Division infantrymen began running into Communist soldiers shortly after daybreak. An artillery barrage was called in on one group of 30 Reds. A few minutes later another group of about 150 Communists was brought to battle in a jungle firefight.

A short time later another unit of the 4th radioed that it was being pressed on three sides.

Drug Research Grant For M-U

WASHINGTON (AP) — The University of Michigan will receive an $85,833 grant to research the effects of drugs on the human body.

The grant is from the National Institute of General Medical Science.

Although the grant is for one year, the institute said federal support for the project should extend five years.

Angry Moslems Ready Censure Move For U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — New fighting between Egyptian and Israeli forces on land and at sea was reported today as angry Moslem diplomats at the United Nations worked on a resolution to censure Israel for refusing to give up the Old City of Jerusalem.

Israel announced that Israeli naval units sank two Egyptian torpedo boats Tuesday in the first naval clash between the two nations since the Middle East war last month.

An Israeli army spokesman said the engagement occurred in the Mediterranean about 16 miles off the occupied Egyptian town of El Arish when the Egyptian boats fired on a patrolling Israeli flotilla which included the destroyer Elath and two torpedo boats.

Fight At Canal

The spokesman said eight Israeli seamen were slightly wounded.

An Egyptian communique claimed that Israeli machine guns opened fire on Egyptian forces on the west bank of the Suez Canal south of Ismailia. The communique said Egyptian guns fired back and knocked out two Israeli armored cars. It said there were no Egyptian casualties.

The censure move led by Pakistani Ambassador Agha Shahi overshadowed intense behind-the-scenes negotions on other possible resolutions as the General Assembly prepared to resume its emergency session on the Middle East this afternoon after a one-week recess.

Firm On Jerusalem

No agreement appeared near on any proposal to break the assembly's tight deadlock on withdrawal of Israeli troops from the territories of Egypt, Syria and Jordan occupied during the June war.

Israel touched off the censure move Tuesday by informing Secretary-General U Thant that it was going ahead with measures to unify the Israeli and former Jordanian sectors of Jerusalem despite the assembly resolution July 4 calling on Israel to rescind all measures which would "alter the status of Jerusalem."

Israel has contended that its measures simply provide for administrative unity and could not be correctly described as annexation of the Old City.

Whatever the term, Foreign Minister Abba Eban made clear to Thant that Israel had no intention of canceling the comprehensive plans already in motion for health services, social welfare, education and protection of the holy places in the Arab sector.

Assembly Divided

The resolution July 4 was sponsored by Pakistan and was adopted 99-0 with 20 abstentions. The United States abstained, although the Johnson administration had urged Israel not to annex the Old City.

The assembly can condemn or censure Israel, but only the U.N. Security Council can impose penalties. One proposal under consideration was to have the assembly ask the council to implement the July 4 resolution.

On the questions of Israeli troop withdrawals from Arab territory and future steps to stabilize the Middle East, the assembly remained divided, despite numerous efforts during the week's recess to find a compromise formula.

UAW 'Sights In' On Ford

DETROIT (AP) — It's vice president in charge of labor relations figures that Ford Motor Co. "stands a better than even chance" of being the "target" of the United Auto Workers Union in this year's contract bargaining.

Such speculation came from Ford's Malcolm L. Denise shortly before the UAW presented him with what Denise described as "a long, large and difficult" set of demands Tuesday.

UAW strategy in the past has been to win a contract by strike or otherwise from the "target" company, then use it as a pattern for settlements elsewhere.

Denise's speculation came in a news conference. Following him, UAW President Walter P. Reuther said "I don't know if Mr. Denise is volunteering or not," but added, "I'll find out."

Reuther said that "right now Ford is one of three companies in our general sights." The others would be General Motors, the industry giant, and Chrysler Corp., smallest of the Big Three automakers.

After a three-hour session with the union negotiators who want profit sharing, a guaranteed annual income and substantial wage increases among other things, Denise told newsmen he still thought Ford stands "a pretty good chance of being it."

Reuther Mum

Reuther isn't likely to name a target until he decides where he stands hish est chance of gainning. That decision likely will be delayed until the final days of current three - year contracts that expire September 6.

Denise said that based on "the logic of the situation, Ford could be the target, as it was in 1949 and 1955. Chrysler was the target the last time around in 1964, when the UAW won early retirement with pensions ranging up to $400 a month. The union got its first pension plan at Ford in 1949 and in 1955 got a supplemental unemployment benefit plan there.

The size of General Motors makes a strike against it a serious financial risk. But the UAW pulled its longest ever against any of the Big Three there. That was in the 1940's and it lasted 114 days. The UAW's strike fund is expected to reach $65 million by the time current pacts expire.

GM Strike Costly

But a strike against GM, where the UAW claims almost 400,000 members, would drain the fund dry in just over six weeks, even at the UAW's low strike benefit rates of $20 weekly for a single worker, $25 for a member with a wife and $30 for a man with a family.

The drain of a GM strike would run about $10 million a week. A strike at Ford with a 152,000 UAW members would cost about $3.8 million weekly and one against Chrysler with 95,000 UAW hourly rated, about $2.3 million a week.

Before Denise tabbed Ford as a most likely target, others within the industry had expressed a similar view privately.

But Chrysler — the least suspected—ended up the 1964 target. Most guesses then were GM.

Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther takes to Chrysler Corp., today new contract demands of his United Auto Workers union. They include profit sharing, with the threat of a strike to get it.

Reuther's Chrysler visit is his third in as many days to members of automotive's Big Three, where current three-year pacts run out Sept. 6.

The profit - sharing goal came as a surprise Monday at General Motors. Reuther emphasized this as "essential" to a peaceful settlement at Ford Tuesday.

A guaranteed annual income previously had been given top billing among union goals.

GIs Dunned; Get Welfare Apology

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit office of the Michigan Department of Social Services was apologetic today over certain letters to servicemen in Vietnam.

The letters — to servicemen whose families are on welfare—implied that the men might send home some of their combat pay.

Mildred Fritz, a district supervisor for the state agency, said the letters were sent as a matter of form to relatives of persons receiving state aid.

Miss Fritz said no serviceman needs to send home any money —nor does he even need to acknowledge the letter.

She said the department is studying the matter.

"Whether or not these letters should be sent to soldiers whose income is limited and who are in battle is a question in my mind," she said.

The practice was disclosed when one young soldier sent his letter home to his mother. It reportedly was the first letter he got from home since arriving in Vietnam two weeks ago.

The soldier's father was described as a wounded World War II veteran who has been in and out of hospitals since his service and unable to hold a steady job.

The form letter, received by servicemen as well as others, said "It is important that we know about your income, obligations and contributions to this relative before we can help or continue to help your relative."

Record Grain Crop Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record high U.S. production of corn for grain this year was forecast Tuesday by the Agriculture Department.

The figure was placed at 4,508,525,000 bushels, or 10 per cent above last year and compared to the 1961-65 average of 3.75 million bushels.

This was the department's first corn for grain estimate of the year.

Wheat production was estimated at 1,596,070,000 bushels, or about 45 million above last month's estimate. Last year's wheat crop was 1.3 million bushels.

Corn and wheat are grown under government programs calling for larger crops this year than last. Farmers taking part in the programs get government payments and price supports.

Michigan's production estimates:

Fishing License Boosted To $3

LANSING (AP) — Fishermen will pay more for the privilege of casting their lines into Michigan waters after Dec. 1.

Fishing license fees for Michigan residents go from $2 to $3 on that date, under provisions of one of several bills signed into law by Gov. George Romney.

The bill also provides that the nonresident fishing license fee be raised from $5 to $6. The license entitles the holder and spouse to fish for species other than trout or salmon.

The fee for trout stamps also is raised from $2 to $3. They're for nonresidents only.

Under the bill, residents over 65 may purhcase license for 50 cents. These cover all species of fish. Those persons in military service and home on furlough continue to be exempted.

The governor also signed into law a bill to permit state legislators to attend the state political convention of their party as delegates-at-large from the county in which they reside.

A third bill signed Monday provides that township officers will take office Nov. 20 following their election, instead of April 10 as is the present procedure.

Schools Ask 5 Mills, Election Set Aug. 30

Escanaba Area Board of Education came to grips with its financial problems Tuesday night and voted to ask residents of the school district to approve an additional five mills for operating expenses.

A special election on the proposal was scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 30, one day ahead of the deadline for certifying millage for 1967 tax collection.

Should the proposal fail, the district faces an operating deficit for 1967-68 of over $200,000.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett, who prepared six different budgets using various state aid figures and salary proposals, told the Board of Education that the deficit could range as high as $293,868.

Need Explained

Barrett said a budget which includes proposed salary increases for teaching and non-teaching personnel would hit $2,456,718. If state aid doesn't change and no additional millage is voted in the district, he said, revenue for the district would be only $2,162,850.

Using those figures, he said, the district would need 5.6 mills to balance the budget.

Under consideration in the Michigan legislature are bills which would increase state aid to local school districts by 5 per cent, but Barrett said this would bring only about $52,000 to the district.

In the 1964-65 school year, the Board of Education faced a similar fiscal crisis and operated with a deficit of about $125,000 for the school year. Funds were borrowed from local banks to meet payroll and other costs.

After a millage request was defeated twice, voters approved a 4.5 mill tax in February 1965. Coupled with an increase in state aid that summer, the district climbed back into the black.

Collects 14.7 Mills

Currently, the district collects 14.7 mills in property taxes from district residents — 7.2 allocated from the 15-mill county tax and 7.5 in two extra-voted millages. An increase of five mills would bring the total to 19.7.

In debating the budget and suggested millage request, the board was aware of the increasing financial pressures on the district and its residents and also of the fact that Bay de Noc Community College was turned down recently by a 2-1 margin in a county-wide election on a request for only two mills.

But, Barrett said," We've got to make the effort."

Although the millage resolution passed unanimously, board members were reluctant. They viewed the action as the only solution available.

Election Open

"I, as a member of the school board, will not vote for expenditures for which we do not have money," said Forrest Henslee.

Wheaton Strom, who offered the resolution asking for the extra millage, said the 1964-65 deficit of about $125,000 "is peanuts compared to what we're facing now."

The election will be open to all registered voters of the district. Under state law, anyone may vote on proposals limited to five years or less.

In other business, the Board nominated Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder and Albin Pearson Jr., as delegates to the Michigan Association of School Boards meeting in Detroit; approved a project application of $14,900 for a Junior High reading program under Title I of the federal Elementary - Secondary Education Act., and voted to advertise for bids to demolish and remove houses located at 206 and 210 S. 6th St., the site of the new Franklin School.

Edward Edick Given Emblem Of Rotary District Governorship

The new governor of Rotary International District 622 -- Edward E. Edick, 819 Lake Shore Drive, was given the emblem of his new office at a ceremony at Escanaba Rotary Club's luncheon meeting in the House of Ludington Tuesday noon by retiring Governor Emory S. Rogers, retired plywood manufacturer of Marion, Wis.

John A. Lemmer of Escanaba, also a past district governor of Rotary, introduced the governors and conducted a short quiz on Rotary. "Who's our senior Rotarian? Lawrence Jacobs!" (The club was organized in 1920 and he joined in 1921.)

Rogers delighted the Rotarians with a humorous account of his governorship. He said that Mr. and Mrs. Isador Stein of Escanaba (he's immediate past president of the Escanaba Rotary Club) were the only Rotarians who took him and his wife to dinner on his tour of the clubs.

He said, however, that a highlight of his tour was an invitation to the shop of a Rotary president who is a beautician. He waited while the beautician finished a permanent wave and then went home with him to share a supper with the couple and their 10 children, which was delayed by the failure of their stove and climaxed by a visit to the family cow barn where the beautician - dairyman milked by hand a cow which had stepped on its udder.

Rogers stressed international friendship in his governorship and set up an active exchange of students between his district and Mexico. The district has 36 clubs, 15 of them in the Upper Peninsula.

Edward Edick thanked Lemmer, who proposed him for Rotary membership in 1935, and "the hundreds of Rotarians here who have been tolerant of me and who have given service to their community and kept our club alive.

"As representative of Rotary International in our district part of my job will be to enhance President Luther Hodge's program. I suggest we go about this by getting more club members personally involved in Rotary. There are many ways to do this, but the most obvious is to improve our attendance.

"We can also get more people involved in Rotary by extending our membership, and by filling all classifications so that the club represents a cross section of our business and professional community. We have three generations of membership and this is a healthy combination if we bring the three elements together to communicate Rotary to one another."

She Still Loves Bigamist Hubby Despite Others

MANISTEE (AP)—Mrs. Jean Martone says she still loves her carnival worker husband John C. Bence Jr., though she has been told he has six aliases and possibly as many wives.

She filed a bigamy charge against the husky Bence, explaining that while "I still love him ..You know the saying—Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned."

Bence pleaded guilty to the bigamy charge when arraigned Monday in Manistee Circuit Court in northwestern Lower Michigan.

Michigan State Police said Bence has six wives. The Manistee County prosecutor said he has three. Mrs. Martone, who said she married Bence under his alias of John Martone on July 5, 1963, said she believed he has four wives. But only one count of bigamy was contained in the charge.

Bence, who will be sentenced July 24, faces a maximum penalty of five years in jail.

Mrs. Martone, 26, said she and Bence traveled the carnival circuit for a while and then she heard rumors.

Someone gave her a name, she said, and she wrote to a woman in Maryland.

"We exchanged pictures, and found we were married to the same man," said Mrs. Martone.

General Attends Mother's Funeral

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, ends a sad journey home today with the burial services for his mother, Mrs. James Ripley Westmoreland.

Mrs. Westmoreland died at her home Sunday of a congestive heart failure. She was 81.

The funeral is at 5 p.m. at Trinity Episcopal church with burial at Elmwood Cemetery.

On his arrival in Columbia Tuesday, Westmoreland said he was unsure about when he would return to Vietnam. He said he would "probably meet with the President, presumably in Washington" before making the return trip.

Westmoreland, accompanied by his wife and two of their three children, spent Tuesday night at Ft. Jackson, near Columbia.

What Teachers Think

The Michigan Education Association polled teachers attending the recent convention of the National Education Association convention in Minneapolis on several controversial issues. The teachers' beliefs show a commendable growth in teacher independence, civic forthrightness and leadership.

The movement of the teaching profession into a truer professionalism is indicated. The trend in the controversial issues points to faculties that will be gutsy enough to deal frankly and objectively with the hot choices that crowd our lives, rive our society and make schooling in preparation for our feverish living so difficult.

* * *

The MEA started off with questioning about whether teachers thought our schools place too much emphasis on preparing college-bound students at the expense of those who aren't going on to college.

The issue is intimately bound up in the need for community colleges because they are the best single means of continuing public education after high school. The teacher might be expected to have a defensive attitude toward the organization of our schooling and to resent suggestion that we have stacked our educational deck so that it favors the college-bound and shortchanges those who are leaving school after the 12th grade.

Not at all! Teachers voted Yes 308, No 231 their belief that our schools aren't fair to all students: that they favor the better heeled, who are going on to college.

The opinion is even more devastating put another way: "Does the school system in which you teach have adequate programs for the student who is not college-bound?" The teachers responded: Yes 158, No 384!

* * *

Should teachers strike when their efforts to negotiate fail? The public judgment, we believe, is that while Americans overwhelmingly support the right of industrial workers to strike, that they are much less in agreement about the propriety of the strike weapon used in the schools.

It is one thing for workers and industry to be idled in a quarrel they can't settle. The adversaries here bear the direct cost of the shutdown that results from failure in negotiation. But when schools close, children who have no control over their fate or welfare and who are thus wards of the adult community, so to speak, become victims of an adult quarrel.

Their schooling is halted and they are probably impressed as they could never be by anything in their texts, that despite the teachings about ethics, the rule of law, the good will community, that people still live by a sort of jungle code in which they do injury to others in order to get their own way.

Most teachers said that after their bargaining agency (the MEA) had exhausted all legal remedies and the school board still refused to bargain in good faith, that they wouldn't strike. But the vote was very narrow: Strike 183; No Strike 210. Opinion on this issue is about equally divided and moving, we'd guess, toward a majority in favor of teacher strikes as a sure means of getting more pay when suasion won't do it. Inability to find an effective alternative probably influences acceptance of teacher strikes as a desperation cure.

* * *

The teachers overwhelmingly recorded their belief that their local state and national education associations should back political candidates with endorsement and financial support and that teachers — out of school — should work actively for political parties. This is a candid, daylight type of policy that deserves respect. Teaching is apt to be more virile and no less objective than if public education policy calls for political eunuchs in its school faculties.

Teachers overwhelmingly favored sex education as a part of both elementary and secondary schooling. In this they are far more knowing and courageous than the parents of the children who would benefit from such instruction.

Teachers said parents are pressuring their children more to achieve academically in school and that schools were doing the same thing. There was no judgment on the results. Schools and parents should be pressuring the young to work hard in school so that they can achieve their potential.

Limitation on the pressure exerted is what counts. Obviously some parents pressure their kids too hard and some of them for the wrong reason — as a status symbol instead of a benefit to the child — and they get their children a degree in neuroses as well as in social studies.

There's very little mousie in the teachers' replies and we should give them a good mark for that.

How You Gonna?

The vanishing American — the farmer — continues to shrink in numbers.

Latest report from the Department of Agriculture shows there were 11,595,000 people living on farms last year compared to 12,363,000 in 1965 — a decrease of 768,000.

Farm population in 1966 was only 5.9 per cent of the nation's total. It was 6.4 per cent the year before and nearly 9 per cent in 1960.

This percentage drop is accelerating every year, says the government, because it reflects not only population growth in the cities but a steady migration away from rural America.

Between 1960 and 1966, more than 4 million country folk left the farm for the big town.

Long Johns

The Wall Street Journal has come up with a fashion scoop that's a real swinger.

The upcoming smash in men's wear, says The Journal, is the jump suit. Men's fashion designers say the jump suit is practically all-purpose. It can be worn around the house, for formal wear, for sports, to the office, even to bed.

Many of us can remember when a garment of which the jump suit is the spitting image was a vital part of a masculine wardrobe.

It was called long underwear — or affectionately, long johns.

Welcome back, old friend.

Arabs Fall Guys

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA)— Well over a decade ago, Ho Chi Minh's Vietnamese Communist forces had a serious problem in Laos.

The Pathet Lao would not fight. They were officered by regulars from what is now North Vietnam. Many of the non-commissioned officers and technicians were North Vietnamese. But the Lao troops were not interested in the war.

The civilian populace, on which guerrilla fighters must depend for their food, intelligence and countersecurity were just as lethargic as the troops. They were not enthusiastic about backing—or helping—the Reds.

Exhortations did no good. Promises for the future did no good. "Warnings" on what the anti-Communist troops would do to the farmers and villagers were likewise ineffective.

* * *

Finally in despair, Ho's political agents decided on a plan. It was outlined to this reporter some time back by a man who was chief of staff of Ho's armies in Laos at the time long ago when this story occurred.

"We decided to give them a jolt that would arouse their hatred against our opponents," said this former general. "We organized a battle against our enemies that we knew we would lose badly. We had no hope of winning. We knew in advance that many of our own Laotian troops would be slaughtered.

"We calculated that when this happened, the many deaths would arouse among Laotians a feeling of deep hatred for our enemies. Every Pathet Lao in our forces had relatives. We were counting on the hatred and fears of these relatives spreading the word through the countryside.

"If this plan worked, then the people would believe they had to help—and work with us to protect their people. They would never know, of course, that we had tricked them, that we had organized the battle with the aim of getting our own Laotian allies killed.

* * *

"The battle took place as scheduled. As we knew in advance, our side lost heavily. Many of our Laotian allies were killed. The slaughter was terrible. But we had arranged to save our Vietnamese—almost all of them.

"But though the battle went as planned, we had only limited success with our propaganda. But there were other times and other places where this technique worked."

No one knows what will finally come of Russia's egging on the Arabs until there was war in the Middle East. No one knows here whether Moscow was using the trick described above, the one Ho used in Laos so long ago.

But this technique is well-known in the Soviet Union. It has been used by Communists around the globe. In South Vietnam, on occasion, Viet Cong have moved into a hamlet, then let the Vietnamese government troops or Americans know they were there. The village would be bombed. The Viet Cong, who had sneaked out before the attack, would return to "help" the bombed villagers and win friends.

As mentioned above, this technique works sometimes. Other times it boomerangs. Some Vietnamese just want the VC to move away so they won't be bombed again.

In this Middle East war the Russians worked up some strong anti-American feelings among Arab countries.

It will take skilled diplomacy to undo that damage.

Lansing Wars On Mosquitoes

LANSING (AP) — Search and destroy teams hit the streets of Lansing this week, aimed at combatting hordes of mosquitoes that appeared over the weekend.

"We've got these things coming out of our ears right now," reported Frank Ciloski, a control technician.

Ciloski had no explanation for the sudden surge in mosquito population.

Once upon a time a pitcher could get by with a fast ball and a curve. Today he needs several other pitches.

A winning bridge player must also mix his bids.

One of the standard rules for preemptive bids of three is that you don't make them when you can just as well open with one. Malcolm Martin of Bermuda knows this rule but violated it with tremendous success in a recent rubber bridge game at New York's Regency Whist Club.

North knew that West might well have opened three diamonds with a seven card suit to the queen-jack and nothing else His double was for takeout. South might have passed and picked up 300 points but South did have five spades and his partner had asked him to bid.

The spade bid was right up North's alley. He forced to a spade slam and when the slam bid got back to Malcolm he decided to go all out and doubled.

The double was dangerous but as Mal remarked later on, "I came here to take chances."

The double was spectacularly successful. South ruffed the diamond lead and played a low heart from dummy. This play turned out to be just as unsuccessful as the bidding. East took the trick with the ten and forced dummy with a second diamond. The ace of hearts was led next. West ruffed and forced out dummy's last trump with another diamond lead. At this point East and West had two tricks in and were still able to collect two trumps, a diamond and 1,100 points on their side of the score.

No Charge, No Lottery, Court Rules

LANSING (AP) — A drawing which has no entry fee is not necessarily an illegal lottery, even though contestants are required to be present to win, the State Appeals Court has ruled.

The court overturned the Monroe County Circuit Court conviction of retail store manager Clayton Brundage, who has been charged with operating a lottery.

Under the rules of Brundage's contest, anyone could come to the store and register for the weekly drawing without charge and without making a purchase.

The drawings were held in the store's parking lot and the contestant whose number was drawn had to be present to collect the $200 prize.

Circuit Judge William J. Weipert had instructed the jury that requiring contestants to come to the store for the drawing was a "consideration" and made the game a lottery, which Michigan's constitution forbids.

The Appeals Court disagreed. Quoting in full a recent opinion on lotteries by State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, the higher court said:

"The instructions (of Judge Weipert) relative to consideration do not reflect the current thinking on the subject . . . as expressed by the Supreme Court ...by the Attorney General, or by this court, and their use was in error."

Big State Fair Arena Planned

DETROIT (AP) — City officials and businessmen in Detroit reportedly are planning again to build a giant sports and entertainment stadium on the Michigan State Fairgrounds, adjacent to the northern city limit.

The proposal for the stadium was made public here by Detroit Free Press, which said detailed plans would be laid out Thursday.

The stadium, to be built on the assumption that the Detroit Tigers and Lions would move into it, would seat 70,000 and cost $34 million.

Similar plans have been proposed and shelved in recent years.

A citizens committee reportedly studied the new proposal for a year before deciding on the Fairgrounds as the site.

William Clay Ford, owner of the Detroit Lions, said his club had been contacted by city officials.

The festival of Corpus Christi is observed on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday.

Plenty Of Maturity Needed For Marriage

Dear Ann Landers: I am a young man who has been keeping steady company with a young woman for over two years We are not officially engaged but neither of us has dated anyone else for over a year, and we have talked of marriage.

Several weeks ago my fiancee was injured in an accident. I was driving, but the accident was not my fault. The driver of the other car had been drinking. All of this is a matter of record.

A few days ago the doctor told us that my fiancee's leg will never be right, and she will probably spend the rest of her life on crutches.

I am a person who loves swimming, hiking, dancing and tennis. The thought of being married to a woman who could not participate in sports is very depressing. I am torn by guilt because she was injured in my car. Yet I don't want to be stuck with a crippled woman. Please tell me what to do. —ENTRE NOUS.

Dear Entre: Don't marry the girl. You have neither the maturity nor the compassion required to make the marriage work. You would feel martyred, cheated and trapped and she would soon know it. One day this girl might make a wonderful wife, but not for you.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 14-year old with a problem mother. We moved to this city a couple of weeks ago and my mother all of a sudden wants to be very glamorous. She has dyed her hair a fake red and it looks terrible. New she wants me to dye my hair the same color so people will think her hair is natural.

My hair is a chestnut brown, nothing great, but it's good enough for me. Mom tells me I am a nice, ordinary looking girl but with red hair I would be a knockout.

I need someone who is older to speak for me. I've told Mom a dozen times that I don't want red hair but she still nags. Please, please say something in your column—or does mother know best?—S.L.

Dear S.: I hate to tell a girl that she has better sense than her mother, but in this case I must. Stick to your natural color, Toots, and don't let anyone change your mind.

Dear Ann Landers: A dear friend of mine has me worried sick. She is a lovely person, lives in a beautiful place and has a nice income. But this woman has not thrown away a newspaper or a magazine or a box or a sack in 25 years.

The only room a person can walk through is the living room. If her place should ever catch fire, she wouldn't have a chance. Is there anyway she can be forced by law to protect herself?—GOOD NEIGHBOR

Dear Neighbor: You don't say whether her "beautiful place" is a home or an apartment. If it's an apartment, it may be a fire hazard for others, too, and should be investigated. For the woman's safety, suggest that she call the fire department and ask an inspector to come out and determine whether or not she is in danger.

Member Of Port Commission Is Fired At Monroe

MONROE (AP)—The Monroe City Commission has voted 6-1 to dismiss Frederick Behner Jr. from the port commission "in the best interests of the people of Monroe."

Behner had criticized Mayor Morton Cohn on June 30 for refusing to reappoint two other members of the port commission. Cohn had demanded Behner's resignation in return.

The city commission and the port commission have been feuding lately about the operation of the port, the city charging that the filling of the port to provide room for factory development is not progressing rapidly enough.

Area Schools Hire Six Teachers, Need 10 More

Six new teachers were hired by the Escanaba Area Board of Education for the 1967-68 school year Tuesday, but a shortage still exists with school scheduled to open in just eight weeks.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett informed the Board of Education that he still needs six elementary teachers, one for high school English, two for mentally handicapped programs and a speech therapist.

"There aren't many teachers available," Barrett said.

"Last week I took a recruiting trip into Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota," he said. "In the five days I was gone, I covered a little over 1,500 miles, visiting placement offices on 14 college campuses and two commerical agencies in Minneapolis.

"I came back without a single teacher."

Barrett said, however, he collected names of some 40 teachers would might be interested in Escanaba positions and has written to all of them. As yet, he reported, he has not received any replies.

Teachers hired by the Board Tuesday were Mrs. Bonita Worliffer, junior high math; Mrs. Carol Pfannenstiel, elementary; Harold Koski, elementary; Mrs. Betty Millard, librarian; Thomas Smith, junior high art, and Jean Rosenquist, elementary.

Letters of intent were authorized to be issued to all six persons. Because negotiations between the Escanaba Education Association and the Board of Education have not been completed, contracts have not been sent to any teachers.

In an effort to help alleviate the teacher shortage, the Board of Education rescinded a policy established about 25 years ago which required that all teacher candidates who graduated from high school in Escanaba teach at least two years in another community before being employed in Escanaba.

Barrett said he believed the policy was established when there was a surplus of teachers to prevent the Escanaba schools from being staffed only by Escanaba people.

In the past several years he said several possible candidates have been passed up because of the policy, including two elementary teachers this year.

Franklin School Progress Slow, Board Informed

One of two new elementary schools expected to open for classes this fall in Escanaba may not be ready in time.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett told the Board of Education Tuesday night that work on the new Franklin school is proceeding slowly.

Barrett said the new Jefferson School (southside location) is expected to be ready, but that mechanical work is holding up installation of ceilings and flooring at the Franklin School.

Mechanical contractor on the job is Berger & Robinson of Escanaba.

Barrett said that until all heating vents, plumbing, etc., is installed, contractors cannot proceed with the other interior work required.

School opens in eight weeks.

As far as other construction work, Barrett reported that the additions at Wells and Soo Hill and on the John Lemmer school were proceeding on schedule and should be ready when youngsters report for classes. The Washington school, which was started later, is not scheduled for use until 1968. The boiler plant to heat the new Washington School and the Junior High is expected to be ready.

In event the new Franklin School is not ready for immediate use, the Board indicated it would probably use the old Jefferson School temporarily. Students in the Franklin area would be bussed to Jefferson for classes.

Sunday Liquor Bill Defeated

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature poured Sunday liquor sale legislation down the drain for another year Tuesday night.

The action overcame 11th hour attempts by Detroit - area lawmakers to save the perennial measure.

Sunday sale of liquor by the glass died when the Senate—taking time out from budget bills—agreed to recede from amendments it had tacked onto a House bill to forbid retail sale of beer and wine by wholesalers.

The action also killed amendments to allow package liquor dealers to operate within 500 feet of a church or school and to extend resort liquor licenses from 10 months to 12.

In passing the comparatively minor House bill several weeks ago, the Senate had attached the Sunday sale, resort and package dealer amendments hoping they could ride through the House.

The House earlier killed a Senate bill specifically allowing Sunday sales.

However, the House refused to accept the new amendments, causing the bill to be sent to a conference committee.

Other legislators claimed the Senate amendments had distorted Baker's original bill. They asked the Senate to recede, adding that the amendments never could gain approval.

On a motion by Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R - St. Louis, the senators voted 23-9 to recede from the amendments.

The Sunday sale amendment would have allowed county boards of supervisors to legalize sale of liquor by the glass on Sunday without a vote of the people.

However, the measure would have applied only to establishments which collect more than half of their gross receipts from nonalcoholic sales—such as food and entertainment.

If a county board did not vote to legalize Sunday liquor within 60 days after the proposed law became effective, a petition drive could put the question on the ballot.

Mrs. Mosenfelder Heads Escanaba School Board

Mrs. Robert (Clara) Mosenfelder, the only woman on the Escanaba Area Board of Education, was elected president Tuesday night as the board reorganized for the 1967-68 school year.

Seated as new members of the Board were Albin J. Pearson Jr., and Richard L. Hanson.

Pearson was elected treasurer of the Board in his first official meeting. Roland Collins was elected vice president and Wheaton Strom was chosen secretary.

The Board met with only six members because of the resignation of Marvin Marshall, who was transferred out of Escanaba by the U. S. Forest Service. There was no action taken to appoint a successor, although the Board met in executive session to discuss the situation. According to state law, a successor must be named by July 20.

Copper Worker Strike Okayed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — More than 37,000 copper workers have voted to strike at midnight Friday if they do not get new contract agreements with eight copper companies.

The United Steelworkers Union, which represents 57 locals mostly in the western United States, said no progress has been reported in any of the negotiations.

Each company is bargaining with its locals separately. Main goal of the union is wages, but it is also seeking improved fringe benefits.

The original contracts expired June 30 but were extended two weeks.

A spokesman for the Steelworkers said the wage scale varies with each company and each job but the average hourly cash pay was $3.06 in June, 1966. He said the union was seeking a contract on a par with basic steel, which he said now averages $3.51 an hour.

Major companies are Anaconda, Phelps Dodge, Kennecott and American Smelting and Refining.

Besides money, some other goals of the union are a cost of living escalator, earlier retirement and improved pension, increased life insurance and hospitalization and supplemental unemployment benefits.

John Goyeau, public relations officer of the Students' Information 67 organization, said Tuesday his group will begin circulating pamphlets of advice to draft-age high school pupils.

The organization, established last spring to encourage U.S. students to emigrate to Canada and continue their education there, claims to have mailed more than 100 "information kits" to American students who have inquired.

American Way Called Key To U.S. Leadership

The second annual citizens seminar of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and Upper Peninsula Farm Bureaus opened at Holy Name High School this morning with a larger turnout than last year.

Keynoter was Dr. Clifton Ganus, president of Harding College of Searcy, Ark., an educator who said that the hope that education would deepen and strengthen America's moral base had not been realized.

"We used to think that education was the answer (to the problem of moral decline)" said Dr. Ganus "but we no longer believe that. It takes the right kind of education to teach moral values. It won't help if we educate for materialism.

"Even some of our clergy is stressing freedoms in living that make our sexual morality go down the drain. A nudist in California said recently that now that God is dead nudism would grow because God had been holding it back."

"Our thesis," said Dr. Ganus "is that our youth will not support nor work for our American heritage unless they understand its basic principles.

"Our American heritage is based on:

"1. Faith in God.

"2. Constitutional government.

"3. Our private enterprise economy.

"These are the foundation stones that have given us the greatest measure of personal freedom and economic wellbeing of any people in history.

"Today we are in an ideological conflict, a battle for the minds of men between the communist world and the free world. We need understanding of the basic principles of communism and of the American heritage to decide which is for us. Our faith in God, democracy and free enterprise have put us on top of the world.

"The foundation stone of our system is belief in God as the creator, father and judge of all of us. This makes us live like men and not like animals. Take God out of our lives and we live a political dog fight. Unfortunately today in the United States too many are losing their faith in God and saying 'God is dead.'

"Hitler and the communists were both atheistic. They looked on humans as animals. "Today 70 millions of our more than 196 millions profess no kind of religious faith whatever.

"Our American constitution is one of the greatest documents made by man. It guarantees freedom of the individual and its Bill of Rights spells out our civil liberties. It provides for freedom of worship, of speech, of petition, the right of habeas corpus (produce the body — preventing the old abuse of long incarceration without trial), jury trial, and voting.

"Our economic freedom gives us the right to go into business for ourselves and to compete. This has given us tremendous incentive to achieve. It has been the catalyst to hasten the use of our resources and help us achieve great personal freedom and economic wellbeing."

Dr. Ganus said that the forces working against American wellbeing — atheism, alcoholism, socialism and materialism — are all old.

Plane Crashes In Traverse City, No Serious Injuries

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—A single-engine Cessna sea plane crashed into a busy Traverse City intersection Tuesday, hitting one car and grazing a pickup truck.

Although both the plane and the car were seriously damaged there were no serious injuries in the accident.

Police said the plane, piloted by Don Richards, 35, of Bellaire had taken off from Boardman Lake a short time before the crash. They said the light plane had reached an altitude of 300 to 500 feet when it lost power.

The aircraft narrowly missed gasoline storage tanks as it crashed but clipped several power lines. There was no fire.

Richards is an instructor for Bluebird Aviation, Inc. of Traverse City, which owned the plane. A student, 23-year-old Ralph Stewart of Traverse City was aboard the craft.

The plane hit and seriously damaged a car driven by Mary Boomer of Traverse City.

Clerk Retires

ADRIAN (AP)—County Clerk Alice Welch retired today after a 47-year career in the Lenawee County Courthouse. She has been clerk since 1956. Lenawee County supervisors designated today as "Alice Welch Day" and closed the courthouse early to give her a party. She is 70.

U Of M Raises Tuition In Fall

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan vice president confirmed Monday that the university will raise tuition for the fall.

However, he would not speculate on the size of the increase.

"We haven't set the level of the increase," the unnamed vice president explained. He commented that the state appropriations were inadequate to maintain present levels of university services, and said additional revenues had to be secured.

The U-M regents had been expected to act on a tuition increase and the university's fiscal budget at a special meeting today, but university officials announced Monday the meeting had been postponed until sometime next week.

They have been waiting for the Legislature to agree on higher education appropriations.

A higher education budget bill passed the House last Friday providing $62.2 million for the University of Michigan compared to $58.6 million in the Senate version. The differences are now being worked out in conference committee.

A decision is thought unlikely until the end of this week, however, since Senate representatives to the conference committee will not be in Lansing until Thursday.

Romney Urges S. Vietnamese To Bigger Role

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney Tuesday urged that bombing of North Vietnam be concentrated on targets "directly related to the infiltration of men and supplies into South Vietnam."

The Republican governor also urged more South Vietnamese participation in the war, warning that "there has been too much substitution of American for Vietnamese effort."

Romney is considered a prime contender for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination although he says he has not decided whether he will enter the race.

However, Romney said the comments should not be interpreted as those of a presidential candidate, adding that "I consider this a subject on which people have been asking me questions."

"The South Vietnamese must demonstrate their willingness and capacity to play the principal role in destroying the Viet Cong infrastructure, instituting the necessary social, economic and political reforms and winning the loyalty of the South Vietnamese people," Romney said.

Job For Vietnamese

"The key to bringing the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, separately or jointly, to the negotiating table depends on showing that the guerilla infrastructure can and will be destroyed," he added.

"It is time realistically to recognize that a solution of this conflict depends on the South Vietnamese doing their job."

"We simply cannot do for the South Vietnamese what they must do for themselves," he added.

Romney defined the "guerilla infrastructure" as the guerillas themselves and the portion of the South Vietnamese population which supports them.

Pointing out that Gen. William Westmoreland and the joint chiefs of staff have asked for more U.S. troops for Vietnam, Romney said that while more troops may be helpful in providing a military security shield for a pacification program, the South Vietnamese security role "must be substantially strengthened."

Progress Slow

Romney said he felt little progress has been made in the war in the last six months and compared present U.S. - South Vietnamese casualty rates with those of a year ago.

"Today American casualty rates are much higher than the South Vietnamese," he said, adding the reverse was true a year ago.

Asked if he felt his approach was that of a "dove" or a "hawk," Romney replied that he considered it "a realistic approach."

"It is time to be realistic and to get away from labels," he added.

He said he was not advocating a cessation of bombing of industrial areas of North Vietnam and was not saying that bombing should be limited to the South.

However, he said the administration has been guilty of "overreaction in military terms with an accompanying and unfortunate growth of feeling among the American people that a purely military solution in Vietnam is possible.

Administration Accountable

"If continuance of our policy of escalation triggers a wider war with major Soviet and Communist Chinese participation, the administration must be held accountable," he said.

"The bombing of North Vietnam, while costly to both the U.S. and North Vietnam, has not achieved the intended results," he said. "Infiltration has not lessened, and Hanoi is apparently still not willing to consider seriously a negotiated settlement."

Opportunities for a peaceful settlement might be opened up by a deescalation of bombing in the North, Romney maintained, adding that "we must place proper emphasis on the instruments of peace, including pacification, in exploring all ways of bringing about negotiations which could lead to a satisfactory settlement."

Yanks Locked In Big Battle Near Cambodia

gan to pour into the battle from helicopters shortly after noon.

Reports from the remote battlefield were sketchy. The site is near the Ia Drang Valley where the biggest battle of the Vietnamese war was fought two years ago with heavy losses on both sides.

Attack Expected

A major Red effort in the highlands had been expected to follow or parallel the intensive pressure on the U.S. Marines farther north along the demilitarized zone. Reports from that area today said Communist harassment and artillery fire had dwindled to minor proportions over the past 48 hours.

In the delta, guerrilla forces hit outposts near the two main cities of My Tho and Can Tho.

Near Can Tho they attempted to penetrate an encampment held by black-clad pacification program workers. Circling American planes called "spookies," spewing Gatling-gun fire and flares, helped the South Vietnamese militia and pacification workers to beat off the attack.

Farther south near Can Tho the guerrillas made a similar effort, but the South Vietnamese said at least 48 of the enemy were killed.

Beat Off Guerrillas

Militia guarding the outpost beat off the guerrillas, and at dawn a battalion of South Vietnamese rangers plunged in from helicopters to pursue the Viet Cong. Ten Reds were captured. Several rangers and three policemen were killed and two were wounded.

Womens Activities

Elaine T. Schultz Wed, To James Peter Wils Jr.

Holy Family Church in Flat Rock was the setting Saturday, July 8 for the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Elaine Therese Schultz of Gladstone Rte. 1, and James Peter Wils Jr., of Gladstone.

Rev. Raymond S. Przybylski officiated at the double ring ceremony and nuptial high mass at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Vases of variegated shades of summer flowers formed the altar bouquets.

Organist for the wedding was Mrs. Russell Sargent and soloist, Jack Gascon, brother-in-law of the bride.

During the ceremony the bride placed a floral bouquet at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz of Rte. 1 Gladstone and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James Wils Sr., of 1610 Dakota, Gladstone.

White Organza

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta fashioned with an A-line skirt. The sleeves and hem of the gown were bordered with Alencon lace ruffles and the chapel length train was accented with a butterfly bow.

A forward headpiece of organza petals and re-embroidered Alencon lace adorned with crystals secured her elbow length veil of imported illusion. She carried a crescent arrangement of white roses and tropicana tea roses accented with imitation orange blossoms from her mother's wedding bouquet.

Maid of honor for her sister was Lollie Schultz of Rte. 1, Gladstone and bridesmaids were Bonnie Renier of Escanaba, Bunny and Sherry Wils of Gladstone, sisters of the bridegroom.

Apricot Organza

They were attired in apricot organza Empire floor length gowns styled with pleated lantern sleeves. They wore matching daisy headpieces and their bouquets were cascading arrangements of white daisies and foliage with background ribbon to match their gowns.

Junior bridesmaids were Patti and Carole Wils of Gladstone, sisters of the bridegroom. They wore similar gowns fashioned with puffed sleeves. Little Lisa Marie Lancour of Escanaba, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Serving as best man was John Quinn of Escanaba and further attending the bridegroom were Dave Schultz of Milwaukee and Bill Schultz of Rte. 1 Gladstone, brothers of the bride and John Derkos of Escanaba.

Seating the guests were Bill Bouchard of Gladstone, cousin of the bride and John Butler of Escanaba. In the role of ringbearer was Philip Quinn of Chicago, cousin of the bride.

Mothers' Attire

For attending her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schultz selected an orange sherbert two piece ensemble with white and black patent accessories and she was presented a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Wils wore a turquoise sheath dress with a lace overlay and accented with a midriff bow. Matching accessories completed her attire and she was also presented a white carnation corsage.

A wedding reception for 500 guests was held from 4 to 8 p. m., at the Teamster's Hall followed by a dance from 9 p. m., on. Assisting with duties at the reception were Rita Rae Gascon, Patti Beauchamp, Carol Beauchamp, Colleen Quinn, Peggy DeShambo, Lynn Longtine and Sandy Schultz.

The rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at the Jack Gascon residence.

Lake Independence

When the newlyweds left for their honeymoon trip to Lake Independence, Mich., the bride wore a dark brown and bone plaid two piece walking suit with a dark brown shell and matching accessories. Her going away corsage was a gift of the bridegroom.

Upon their return the couple will reside at 517 S. 11th St., Escanaba.

Mrs. James P. Wils Jr. (Gordon Nelson Photo)

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Holy Name High School and is presently employed at the Escanaba Daily Press. Mr. Wils is a 1964 graduate of Holy Name High School and is employed by the Michigan State Highway Department.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Lansing, Marquette, Glendale, Ariz.; Appleton, Flint, Aurora, Ill.; Chicago, Toledo, Green Bay, Detroit, Iron River and Sheboygan.

Dr. and Mrs. Francis Anderson and their sons (daughter Karen is at Interlochen) have been sea gypsies this summer on their sailing yacht. Biggest adventure was early this month when they cruised to Beaver Island, Mackinac Island, Charlevoix and home, stopping the last night at Captain John Roen's harbor at Burnt Bluff on the Garden Peninsula after a midnight arrival.

Wearing one of the deepest tans of local beachcombers, Dottie Anderson said: "We should have a tarp to hang from the boom to get out of the sun — when it's shining—and when it isn't: Get out those mittens!"

Escanaba hostesses won't have to read the newspapers or magazines about the Mideast trouble after Aug. 6 because, says Bob Mosenfelder, Rotary's summer guest will be here from then until Sept. 20 and he is Itshak Gonenzweig of Tel Aviv, Israel. He will be able to tell them what an eye witness saw of the 6-day war.

Mosenfelder told Escanaba Rotary Club members at their luncheon at the Ludington Tuesday that he'd had a letter confirming the Israeli's plans to be Rotary's guest here. "Hopefully," he wrote "our Arab neighbors will give me a few months vacation." He said that he didn't know much about Michigan except that "you produce nice cars."

Annual Picnic At Perronville

On Sunday, July 16, St. Michael's Parish of Perronville will hold its annual picnic. A chicken dinner served country style will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be games and refreshments for young and old throughout the day and evening. The public is invited to attend.

D. J. Eddings New Church Of Christ Minister

D. Joseph Eddings, former school teacher from the Detroit area, has moved here with his family to preach for the Church of Christ which meets at 1501 1st Ave. S.

Because the local congregation is too small to support him at this time, he is being sponored by the Perry St. Church of Christ in Pontiac, Mich.

During the last six years Eddings has preached for the Madison Heights Church of Christ while teaching school for the Madison Heights and Bloomfield Hills School Districts.

He received his Bachelor of Science from Wayne State University in Detroit, and has recently earned his Masters Degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Eddings, the former Joy Phillips, also a school teacher, graduated from Central Michigan University and did graduate work at Harding College, in Searcy, Ark.

The couple have two children, Timothy, age three, who was adopted as an infant and Joseph, age 10 months.

The Church of Christ in Escanaba is planning a Vacation Bible School July 31 through Aug. 4 and is helping to sponsor a booth at the Upper Peninsula Fair in cooperation with Churches of Christ in Marquette and Iron Mountain.

A warm welcome is extended to all who wish to attend worship services, vacation Bible School and the Fair booth.

Houghton Area Expecting Good Berry Season

HOUGHTON — Strawberries in the Copper Country this year are ripening later than usual, according to Lawrence Best of Chassell, manager of the Copper Country Fruitgrower's Association.

Most of the Copper Country's stawberries are shipped out of the area. Only a small percentage is sold locally. Milwaukee is a main market. Others are Minneapolis, Chicago, Iron Mountain and Green Bay.

"The season is anywhere from a week to 10 days late," Best said, "and its peak probably won't be reached until towards the end of this week.

"It should extend to about Aug. 1. he added.

Growers expect a good crop of berries this year. Ample rain and cooler temperatures, which gave way last week to sunshine should aid in producing a fine quality berries, Best said.

The market for stawberries, is 'looking pretty good as far as we're concerned," Best said. If the quality is up, growers usually receive about $3.25 to $3.50 per eight-quart flat, which is the only type of packaging used locally.

At a recent auction in the Lower Peninsula, berries out of Alpena brought $8 to $8.50 per 16-quart crate.

GLADSTONE

Entertain Children

Rev. and Mrs. Willard Grant

"The Gathering of the Clans," will be the theme of a special series of youth meetings to be held at the Evangelical Covenant Church of Gladstone, July 16-21.

The services, led by Rev. and Mrs. Willard Grant, Covenant youth evangelists, will be held nightly from 7 to 8:15 o'clock. Rev. Grant, an ordained minister in the Evangelical Covenant Church of America, appears in this Scottish series in a complete outfit in his own Grant tartan with bagpipes and kilts.

Though the theme is taken from the Highlands of Scotland, there is nothing "scotch," says the pastor, the Rev. Loren E. Anderson, about the time, money and energy that has been invested by the Grants in planning this series. Approximately two years of research have been spent by the Grants accumulating factual materials for the series. Grant has fashioned the various two foot tall marionettes, made the stage properties and planned the staging for the marionettes. The stage, scenery and lighting equipment involves some $3,000 worth of materials.

Included in each evening's program are marionettes, chalk talks, singing, and many activities in which the children can take part. The children who attend are asked to register in the church basement before the evening meeting.

A free will offering will be received to cover the expense of the meetings, and although the programs are designed primarily for children, adults will be welcomed.

Wilsey, Ogontz Rich With Bass

Some nice catches of bass continue to be made on the Ford River at the M-35 bridge and downstream to Lake Michigan, the early hours seem to be the most productive.

In the Rapid River and Ensign aeras Wilsey and Ogontz bays have been the best for bass, some in the 16 to 18 inch —2½ pound class being taken. Rappala and crawlers are the preferred bait. Northern pike are being taken at Masonville and North Gladstone, casting with artificial lures or still-fishing with minnows. Perch are also being taken off Masonville and North Gladstone with minnows or worms. Trout fishing has been fair in the Whitefish River.

In the Gwinn area Shag Lake, Section 36, T45N-R26W, has been producing some perch and bluegills by still-fishing with worms. A few brown trout are being taken on the Escanaba River in T44 and 45N, R25W using wet flies. Streams in this area are high and muddy and and success wil remain poor until these conditons are eliminated.

In the Munising area trolling with a Red Eye wiggler has been producing some lake trout and a few coho from Lake Superior. Pan fish and pike success has been best in Fish, and Big Island lakes and Chain of Lakes. Bass are also being taken in Big Island Lake. The best bait for pan fish has been small minnows; trolling and live bait for pike; and live bait and casting for bass. It is expected that Skeels, Straits and Horse Shoe lakes should show improved success on small minnows in fishing for pan fish.

In the Chatham area fair success is being enjoyed trolling for lake trout from Sand River to Rock River, with fish up to 10 pounds being taken. Some coho salmon are being taken by trolling in Shelter Bay. Fair catches of brown and rainbow trout have been made in the Au Train Basin using crawlers or troling with rappaia. Some of the browns were in the 15 to 18-inch class, and rainbows in the 18 to 20 inch class. Good catches of northern pike have been made using live bait and artificial lures in 16 Mile Lake and the Au Train River between the new and old M-28 bridges. Light catches have also been made with live bait on Deer and Au Train lakes. Several 3 to 5 pound bass have been taken from the Au Train Basin using crawlers, jitterbugs and poppers.

Good catches of perch have been made in Au Train and 16 Mile lakes and in the Au Train Basin using worms and minnows. The Au Train Basin has also been good for bluegills, sunfish and rock bass. Fishermen skilled in the use of wet flies were making good catches of brook trout in Johnson, Dexter and Slapneck creeks. Light catches were also made on the Rock and Au Train rivers.

A 7 pound brown trout was taken by State Police Trooper David Mellon, Munising, from the Au Train Basin.

Motorcycle Hits Ditch; Kipling Youths Injured

Two Kipling youths suffered abrasions of the arms and legs when the motorcycle they were riding hit the ditch to avoid a car on I-86 near Rapid River, it is reported by State Police of the Gladstone Post.

They are Gary Goodman, 15, a passenger, and Michael Legina, 16, the driver of the motorcycle. They told officers they swerved to avoid a car and were unable to stop and ran into the ditch. The accident occurred at 2:30 p. m., Tuesday.

At 3 a. m., today State Police arrested Gary Demars, 17, of 602 N. 18th St., Escanaba and charged him with larceny of gasoline from a truck at the Delta Home Improvement Co., on County Road 426.

The youth was lodged in the Delta County Jail and will be arraigned today before Justice Edward Goldsworthy in Gladstone.

State Police are also investigating the reported entry of a hunting camp west of Rock, which is owned by Grand Rapids parties. There appeared to be nothing missing.

Girls' Over-Night Camp Is July 18

The recreation department, under the direction of Don Pfotenhauer, will sponsor the annual girls' over-night camp out at Twin Springs Park Tuesday, July 18.

Permission slips may be obtained at the recreation building and must be signed by a parent or guardian and returned before leaving Tuesday morning. The program will include swimming, water skiing, water baseball and with a little luck, a little sleep. Each girl should bring food enough for lunch, supper and breakfast. Speed boats will be on hand to provide transportation.

The regular tennis court dance will be held Thursday evening if the weather permits. Dancing will be to recordings.

Comic book exchange will be held at the recreation building Wednesdays from 2 to 3 p.m. Golfing is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Swim Program Teaches Safety For Water User

The swimming program is well advanced at Gladstone beach with Miss Jo Maniaci, Frank Stupak Jr., and Pat Norton as instructors. The program is sponsored by the recreation department, under the direction of Don Pfotenhauer.

Instuctors have their hands full with several hundred youngsters from Gladstone, Rapid River, Flat Rock and Perkins taking advantage of the opportunity to learn the skills of swimming and are asking parents to help their children overcome the fear of keeping their faces and heads in the water. This would profit not only the individual but the entire group as well.

Intermediates are introduced to two new strokes, the side stroke and the breast stroke, along with 11 new swimming skills and four life saving skills including artificial respiration.

Swimmers receive 18 to 20 new skills and the fundamentals of diving. Endurance swimming is also introduced.

Advanced swimmers are drilled on strokes and skills previously learned in order to reach the level of perfection required for a good swimmer. Distance swimming, timed swimming and diving are other requirements for this course.

Life Saving classes are under the direction of Frank Stupak, Jr. The junior life saving classes are designed for youngsters between the ages of 12 to 15 and include skills necessary to making the youths of the most hazardous water ages, safety factors rather than liabilities in deep water. Much time is spent in developing judgement in emergencies and teaching safety in rescuing others.

Senior Life Saving takes the older brackets of the age span most frequently involved in drownings, males ages 15 through 24, and again converting danger factors into the safety side of the ledger.

Hundreds of swimming skills are emphasized and highly skilled graduates of this course may be placed on call for disaster service in floods by local Red Cross Chapters.

Gladstone children receiving their swimming instructions on Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays, Rapid River children are bussed into the Gladstone Beach for lessons on Tuesday and Flat Rock youngsters are brought in on Thursdays and Saturdays.

Perez Ends Longest All-Star Game In 15th

Belt Off Hunter Whips AL Again

ANAHEIM (AP) — Tony Perez started his California trip as a king and climaxed it by keeping the National League on the throne in All-Star competition.

Perez, the Cincinnati Red who replaced starter Rich Allen at third base in the 10th inning, ended the longest All-Star game ever played when he hit an 0-1 pitch from Kansas City's Jim Hunter into the left field bleachers in the 15th inning.

That gave the National League a 2-1 decision Tuesday and a record five straight victories over the American League.

Trailing 12-4 in the All-Star series in 1949, the Nationals now hold a 20-17 edge after winning 16 of the last 22 games, which include a tie, and nine of the last 11.

Until Perez hit his homer, pitchers had dominated the game with a record 30 strikeouts.

The victory before 46,309 at the California Angels' Anaheim Stadium also helped soothe the National's and Walter Alston's feelings that were collectively shattered last October by Baltimore's four-game sweep of Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series.

Treated Royally

Alston, however, felt no more joyful than Perez, the 25-year-old Cuban who brought his wife, Pituka, and their 14-month-old son, Victor, to see him play in his first All-Star game.

They arrived in Anaheim late Monday night, unaware they were about to receive royal treatment.

"I don't know what happened," Perez related in between accepting congratulations from Alston, President Warren Giles of the National League and Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

"But when we got to the hotel we had a lot of trouble because they have no more rooms left. So they give me the presidential suite. I felt just like a king."

Even at the $58-a-day rate, the National League probably would be willing to keep Perez in the suite the rest of the week.

Ties Game

His home run, the third of the game—the others also were by third basemen, Philadelphia's Allen in the second inning and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore in the sixth—broke up a duel that was punctuated more by strikeouts than by hitting.

Allen connected for his homer in the second off AL starter Dean Chance of Minnesota, a former Angel who was booed by the fans before the game. Robinson tied the game with his drive off Ferguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs in the sixth.

Tony Conigliaro, AL right fielder from Boston, prevented possible damage a couple of times when he grabbed a pair of shots off the bat of St. Louis' Orlando Cepeda, in the 10th and in the 15th—just before the homer.

A total of 12 pitchers, seven for the National and five for the American, posted a record 30 strikeouts in the three-hour, 41-minute contest that eclipsed the 14-inning game at Chicago's Comiskey Park in 1950.

Prior to Tuesday, the record for total strikeouts by both clubs was 20 in 1955. Jenkins led the fan parade by getting a record-tying six American Leaguers.

Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, on the other hand, belied his stature as one of baseball's best hitters by striking out a record four times.

Pitching Supreme

"This was possibly over-all the best pitching in any All-Star game I've seen," commented Alston, who picked up his sixth victory against two defeats as an All-Star manager.

"Some said the twilight made the pitches hard to see, but you have to credit the pitching. It's still the name of the game. This type doesn't strike out with that consistency. Maybe it was a little hard to see, but I wouldn't have believed it if I hadn't seen it."

Willie Mays, who was called out on strikes when he entered the game as a pinch hitter in the sixth, agreed with Alston.

"It was the pitching, not the light conditions," said the San Francisco star who didn't start in the game for the first time since 1956.

Perez himself struck out in his first appearance against Hunter in the 12th inning. Hunter was still around in the 15th when the Reds' right-handed slugger came up again.

The Kansas City right-hander was permitted to go more than three innings—he pitched five—because the game went into extra innings. He had allowed just two hits when Perez came to bat in the 15th.

Hit Fast Ball

"He threw a curve the first pitch," Perez said, "but I was looking for a fast ball because he threw me two fast balls when he struck me out. The second pitch was a fast ball, and I hit it good. I knew it was a homer."

All that was left then was for rookie Tom Seaver of the New York Mets to retire the Americans in their half of the 15th. Seaver relieved Don Drysdale, who worked two innings before leaving for a pinch hitter and received credit for the victory.

Seaver walked Boston's Carl Yastrzemski with one out for only the second base on balls in the game but then got Bill Freehan of Detroit on a fly ball and ended the marathon affair by striking out pinch hitter Ken Berry of the Chicago White Sox.

Practically overlooked by the time the contest ended were the pitching performances of Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox and National League starter Juan Marichal of San Francisco.

Peters worked three perfect innings for the Americans while Marichal allowed only a pinch single by California's Jim Fregosi with two out in the third.

Rogers, Nicklaus See Different Open Total

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — A husky American ex-Marine challenged Jack Nicklaus today over what — not who — would win the 1967 British Open Golf Championship.

"Like this, even four seventies might not win," said Phil Rodgers, 29-year-old San Diego professional who lost the title four years ago in a playoff with New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles, and has been knocking on the door ever since.

Nicklaus, the Columbus, Ohio, holder of both the 1966 British Open and the 1967 American Open, disagreed violently.

Nicklaus, 11-4 favorite to repeat teed off in the knowledge that "It's easier to defend a title than to win one." He forecast that a little bit of wind off the Mersey Sound could shoot the winning score up to as much as 290.

"Not so," said Rodgers. "The old tradition here of 70 never being broken easily could fail this time, and it might turn out that the Open record will go down."

The record for the 107-year-old open is 276, set at Troon in Scotland by Arnold Palmer in 1962. Bobby Jones was happy with his 291 here at Hoylake in 1930, the year of his Grand Slam.

A strange turn of weather gave the field of 130, including eight Americans, the chance to be wrong one way or the other about how to cope with the Hoylake's 6,995-yard, par 72 seaside links.

Hot sun and balmy breezes dried out the course and the big guns of the game, like Nicklaus, were settling for such things as a one under par 71 in their final practice rounds.

The sharp, precision players like Rodgers, Charles, and 22-year-old Clive Clark of England, were racking up 66 and 67.

Eight archers from the Red Buck club brought home prizes from a tournament at K.I. Sawyer Air Base. In the women's division, Nancy Magnuson won the Class B freestyle event and Doris Peck the Class D bare bow. Jeanne Allsworth was second in the Class C freestyle. Lee Premo won the boys Class C shoot with Jeff Premo third. In the girls Class C event, Mary Godin was first, Susan Peck second and Kathy Peck third. Next shoot in the U.P. summer program is scheduled in Escanaba July 23 beginning at 10 a.m.

The Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame museum in Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Administrator John Holloway said the change in hours was made because of the large crowds the museum has been attracting.

Lone Escanaba shooter to place in the U.P. Shooting Association shoot at Deer Lodge, Princeton, was Tom Grenfell, who finished third in the Class A trap event. Grenfell hit 92 of 100 targets. Walt Daley of Negaunee won the trap event with a score of 98. Jack Avery of Marquette also shot 98 for top skeet honors.

The entry fee for the U. S. Open golf championship is $20. Bud Harrelson of the New York Mets and Ken Harrelson of the Washington Senators are NOT related.

Babe Ruthers To Face Cubs Before Tourney

The Escanaba Babe Ruth League All-Star team, which won the Upper Peninsula championship here last weekend and will enter the State Tournament at Harper Woods Saturday, will meet the Esky Cubs of the Waubung League in an exhibition game at 6 p. m., Thursday at Al Ness Field.

The Babe Ruth All-Stars will leave Club 314 at 8 a. m., Friday for the trip to Harper Woods. First tournament game for Escanaba is scheduled for noon Saturday against the winner of the District 6 tournament at Port Huron.

Win or lose, Escanaba will play again Sunday in the double elimination tournament.

League officials said today that money is still needed to charter a bus for the trip. Fans wishing to make contributions should make checks to the Escanaba Babe Ruth League and turn them over to Paul Vardigan, league treasurer.

Ice Boxes Hit Men's 'Jackpot' At Country Club

The Ice Boxes hit the "Jackpot" in the Country Club Men's Twillight League Tuesday.

Besides scoring eight points to tie for the lead in the first night of second half competition, the team combined for a net 190 to win the first "Jackpot" night of the season.

Bill Eis Sr., team captain, also fired a 39 for the low score of the night. Other members of the team were John Chown, Gabe Meretsky, Elmer Bonifas and Art Slaughter.

Wally Arntzen was closest to the pin on No. 7. Other low scores were 40s by Al Taylor, Dave Andrews and Dr. Ed Kuivenen.

Standings: Ice Boxes 8, Hush Puppies 8, Finishers 6, Paper Makers 6, Slickers 5½, Ten Pointers 5, Flyers 5, Masters 5, Bob's Mob 4½, Hustlers 4, Reptiles 4, Pedagogues 4, Tornado's 2, Peasoups 2.

'Pitching Still Name Of Game'

ANAHEIM (AP) — "You've gotta credit the pitching. That's still the name of the game," said Manager Walter Alston, a man eminently qualified to discuss the fruits of good pitching.

Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers put together successive pennants with the National League's best pitching, and Tuesday his All-Star team outlasted the American League, 2-1 in a 15-inning marathon.

"I never saw so many good swings in my life and nothing happened," Alston continued, shaking his head.

The most-feared hitters in baseball amassed 30 strikeouts, with the winners' Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh setting an All-Star record for futility by fanning four times.

'Ball Hard To See'

Home runs accounted for all runs as Cincinnati's Tony Perez snapped a 1-1 tie with a drive over the left field fence in the 15th. Earlier, Rich Allen of Philadelphia homered for the Nationals and Baltimore's Brooks Robinson tied the score for the American League.

But otherwise, pitching dominated and Manager Hank Bauer of Baltimore looked there for solace after the American League's fifth straight All-Star defeat.

"I guess they had some good pitching thrown at them," said Bauer. "Perez just caught the ball—boom."

Clemente, defending National League batting champion, sat in front of his locker, perplexed. "It was just one of those things. In an All-Star game, you get good pitching, but it can't be that good. The ball was a little hard to pick up. I could see the fast balls, but the breaking stuff, well. . ."

Willie Mays, who failed to get a hit and struck out once, was affirmative: "It was the pitching, not the light conditions."

The Dodgers' Don Drysdale, who went two innings, struck out two and picked up the victory, his first in an All-Star game, analyzed: "Maybe the hitters were trying too hard, and maybe there was just a lot of good pitching. It's hard to say."

Jenkins Fans Six

Opening on the mound for the National League was Juan Marichal, who struck out three. Then, Ferguson Jenkins set an All-Star mark, striking out six in three innings.

Bob Gibson struck out two, Chris Short one, Mike Cuellar two, Drysdale two and Tom Seaver one.

For the American League pitchers, the strikeout tabulation was: Dean Chance one, Jim McGlothlin four, Gary Peters three, Al Downing two and loser Jim Hunter, the victim of Perez' homer, three.

Girls Softball

Behind the sharp pitching of Connie Verhamme and Jean VandeWiele, Sportsmans Bar defeated State Bank Tuesday night. Betty Thorsen was on the mound for the losers.

Frazier, Chuvalo Training In Style

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Heavyweight contenders Joe Frazier and George Chuvalo meet in New York's Madison Square Garden next Wednesday night in a 12-rounder that figures to be a rough-and-tough, drag 'em out battle.

You would think that the two heavyweights would be training at austere camps where they could concentrate solely on the big, pivotal fight ahead.

Instead they are working out at two of the plushest resorts in the Catskill Mountains. Chuvalo, the 26-year-old Canadian champion, is working out here at the Grossinger Country Club while Frazier is training nearby at the Concord Hotel.

The 23-year-old Frazier, who has posted 14 knockouts in an unbeaten string of 16, has been ferocious in his workouts. Frazier, a 6-foot, 213-pounder has been flattening sparmates with his short, powerful left hooks. He appears ready to go today.

Chuvalo, an iron-jawed veteran who claims he never has been floored, has been drilling as if he had a marathon run coming up. He has been boxing 12 rounds in the same old way although his new trainer, Freddie Brown, has been attempting to change his style.

MANISTIQUE

Robert Crawford, 60, Is Killed In Papermill Mishap

Robert James Crawford, 60, of Manistique Heights, a maintenance engineer at the Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., for 25 years, was instantly killed in an accident at the mill at 3:10 p. m., Tuesday. He was 60 years old.

He was making a repair and was struck by a brake bar on a hydromotor. Working with him on the job, which he had performed a number of times in the past, were Einar Gustafson and Peter Udell.

They were engaged in repairing a broken coupling on the No. 4 hydromotor. In removing the second half of the coupling, it was found to be tight and had to be tapped by Crawford with a sledge hammer.

Crawford tapped the piece eight or 10 times and the coupling loosened and swung. He ducked to avoid it, lost his balance and fell, bumping the first piece of the coupling that had been removed. This hit the brake bar and released the water and the turbine began to turn. Pinned by the coupling that had fallen on him, Crawford was struck and killed by the bar on the turbine.

Gustafson was slightly hurt in an unsuccessful effort to save Crawford.

Born in Manistique on April 14, 1907, Crawford was a lifelong resident of the community. He attended Manistique High School and served with the U. S. Navy in World War II, including two years in the Pacific.

He was a member of First Methodist Church, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4420, and of Local 44 of the Pulp & Sulphite Workers Union.

He was married to the former Ella Carbon on Nov. 16, 1930. Surviving are his widow, his mother, Mrs. Alice Crawford of Manistique; one son, Paul, Middleville, Mich.; one daughter, Mrs. Thomas (Donna) Quinn, Denver, Colo.; and six grandchildren.

Also surviving are one brother, David of Manistique and two sisters, Mrs. Albert Mersnik, Manistique, and Mrs. Percy Walker of Grand Rapids.

Friends may call at the Messier-Broullire Funeral Home beginning at 3 p. m., Thursday.

Funeral services will be held at the Funeral Home at 2 p. m., Friday with the Rev. William Kelsey of the First Methodist Church officiating and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

VFW memorial rites will be conducted at 8 p. m., Thursday and all veterans are requested to be present.

Resort Business Reported Good

Resorts are getting a good business this year, through some vacancies exist with cancellations, and motels and parks are getting fairly good play, the Chamber of Commerce reports. Traffic is heavy.

Many sight seeing requests are being received and an area brochure which is distributed is helping keep visitors in the area longer, through knowledge of other things to see and do in Upper Michigan, said Carl Graves, C-C secretary.

A number of requests are received for information on the Yacht Harbor area and its piers, with this area providing considerable recreation, he said.

City Government

Codes Adopted; Apartment Site Is Requested

The Manistique City Council Monday night began action to provide codes necessary to qualify projects under federal programs. Electrical and plumbing codes were adopted and first reading was moved on an abridged building code ordinance.

The electrical code is that provided by Act 217 of the Michigan Public Acts, and the plumbing code is that under Act 266 of the Michigan Public Acts. The ordinance for the abridged building code is under Act 279 and will have the code adopted by the Building Officials Conference of America in 1965.

Discussion on codes indicated that in the case of plumbers, at least, the practices already are being followed as a matter of good service.

Meeting Recessed

A request was received from Robert Ebli and Robert Orr to purchase a city lot on Main St., in the present farmers' market area for $1,000, to build an 8-unit apartment building. The manager has been asked to get an appraisal of the property for consideration at the continuation of the council meeting July 20 at 7 p.m. The meeting was recessed Monday until then.

First step was moved in a special assessment project for curb and gutter on New Delta Ave., at estimated cost of $2140, to be borne by property owners. Public hearing on the improvement is scheduled July 24. An asphalt cap is planned for the street.

A letter of commendation was adopted for the July Fourth planning committee for its outstanding job. A letter of praise for public safety officers handling an accident at Maple and Elk was received from a Minneapolis, Minn., couple.

Fish Shed

The manager reported on progress in providing a fish shed in the harbor area for Peterson fisheries and other needs. Approval was given to proceed and to renovate the roof and siding on the city shed rented to the Casey fishery. Equal rents are to be charged for the two buildings.

Hours at the dump have been changed from 9 to 6 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and Sunday from 10 to 3. There will be no Monday evening hours.

A housing code is asked by the federal government in connection with the downtown urban renewal program, for which no funds presently are available, the manager said. The city has been requested to consider the code in preparation for the time when the work can be done, he said.

A report on motorbike control was asked due to increasing numbers of the bikes.

Merwin White reported no high voltage street lighting is left in the city, following work by Edison Sault Electric Company to install mercury lights.

William Cowman requested dust control in the Michigan Ave. Cattaragus area.

Schoolcraft Gets Biggest Herbicide Shot For Grouse

Herbicide spraying projects were undertaken by the Michigan Conservation department this spring and summer in six areas in three Upper Peninsula counties.

Principal purpose of the spraying was to kill off vegetation to create openings for sharptailed grouse. However, the edges of the openings also benefit deer and ruffed grouse.

Sharptails moved into Michigan from the Plains States following the heavy logging and fire era here. Flocks of hundreds of birds were not unusual during the peak of their population. But with the passing of clear-cut logging and the advent of efficient forest fire control techniques, the great openings began to disappear and sharptail numbers dwindled accordingly.

Today, the Conservation Department manages certain areas of state-owned land to preserve sharptail habitat. An effort is made to keep these areas open by spraying, controlled burning or by cutting young growth by hand.

Ralph Bailey, Marquette, regional game biologist for the department, said all of the six spraying projects in the Upper Peninsula this year were carried out by planes provided under contract by a Rockwood, Mich., aerial charter firm.

Largest of the six projects was the spraying of 1,700 acres in the Bullock Ranch area of Schoolcraft County. Other spraying projects were: Dunklee's Alger County 450 acres; DeShambo's southern Marquette County, 40 acres, and three in the Ralph area of Dickinson County—the Pipeline Tract three miles southeast of Ralph, 160 acres; Old Camp One, 88 acres, and Baker's Camp, 177 acres.

The only other spraying projects carried out by the department in Michigan this year were two small applications in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Briefly Told

State Police ticketed Joseph H. Lepel, Rochester, N.Y., speeding.

Application for marriage licenses have been made by Daniel John Anderson, 220 Oak and Christine Ann Boyd, West Shore Drive; and Michael C. Chisholm, Newberry and Vicky Ann Caldwell, Cooks.

Llewellyn F. Larson, Rte. 1, Escanaba was ticketed by the weighmaster for not having a permit for overwidth load and was assessed fine of $25 and costs of $2 in Justice Court.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Question of the year: If tots at Christmas send their letters to Christmas, in Upper Michigan, hoping to contact Santa Claus, will some of them also get to St. Nicholas — the little farming settlement near Perkins and St. Joseph's Church? Some one will probably have to organize a Chamber of Commerce!
